

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Has your VSO received funding from the ASSU Undergraduate Senate Appropriations Committee in prior years? If so, how much and when?

MSAN has received Special Fees funding in previous years. In 2004-2005, the budget was increased to around $16,000, in 2005-2006, the budget was increased to $19,500, and this year we hope to increase it to $21,100.

Have you registered your events/organizations with events.stanford.edu? (note: registration is mandatory) (yes/no)

Yes, MSAN is registered with OSA.

How large is your officer core?

The officer core consists of 3 individuals: a President, Vice President, and Treasurer

If you applied for Special Fees last year, is there an increase in the amount you're seeking this year? If so, why?

MSAN did apply for Special Fees last year, and this year there is an increase due to the high profile speakers our group aims to invite to Stanford. Namely, with Muhammad Yunus (2006 Nobel Peace Prize winner) and Keith Ellison, both Honorarium and Travel Fares (international flight from Bangladesh).significantly increase. Although both of these events will be cosponsored, MSAN still needs to increase its budget in order to have a realistic chance of hosting these speakers.

Please define the services provided by your group with the Special Fee, as per the ASSU Constitution:

MSAN organizes panel discussions, informative lectures, cultural displays/shows, cultural bazaars, dorm-talks, and our annual Islam Awareness Month program. We strive to work with our community partners - academic departments and student groups - to solidify our presence and outreach.

Please list all:1) assets, 2) reserves, 3) authorized and unauthorized non-ASSU bank accounts, 4) sources of funding other than Special

Primary sources of funding beyond Special Fees are departmental and student group co-sponsorships.

Have you applied for Special Fees in the past 3 years? If so, please detail the outcome of each attempt.

MSAN has received Special Fees funding in previous years. In 2004-2005, the budget was increased to around $16,000, in 2005-2006, the budget was increased to $19,500, and this year we hope to increase it to $21,100.

How do you plan to publicize your events/programs to the greater Stanford community? Have you registered with Events at Stanford?

16. Our events are publicized through E-flyres, paper flyers posted all around campus dorms and prominent locations, Facebook even invitations, and of course by word of mouth. All our major events are registered with Events @ Stanford.

How many members are on your email list?

There are 77 members on the administration list, and 510 members on the announcement list.

If you are an umbrella group, please list the groups for which you are applying for Special Fees, their ASSU account numbers, and contact information for their financial officers.

MSAN is not an umbrella group.

Please describe a few past events organized by our VSO (please limit your response to 50-100 words).

Our most successful event this year has been with comedian Ahmed Ahmed. We felt his jokes were important to break down barriers between Muslims and those of other faiths to show no matter what faith one follows, the individual is far from perfect. The event was a great success, with Annenberg overflowing with more than 400 people.

Another event was the kick off for this year's Islam Awareness Month, Islam 101. An Islamic scholar came and gave a presentation on the basics of the faith so that a ground level understanding could be established before delving into more charged issues.

What are the three largest line item requests in your budget and why?

Honoraria: This line item will be used to bring high profile and highly sought speakers to Stanford. Every year, we carefully select a line-up of speakers and events that will complement one another and be able to address the major concerns facing Muslims and/or the Muslim world. Current events, including the War on Terror, the War in Iraq, the Palestine-Israel conflict, and the soaring numbers of hate crimes against Muslims in America compel us to address such pertinent themes as US-Muslim world relations, Women in Islam, and the Relationship of the Abrahamic Faiths. Previous speakers MSAN has brought to campus include: Cat Stevens, Professor Asma Barlas (author of the book Unreading Patriarchal Interpretations of the Qu'ran), Hans von Sponeck (former secretary general of the U.N.), Mustafa Barghouti (former candidate for president of Palestine and receipt of 20% of the vote in recent elections), civil rights activist Mahdi Bray, Lawrence Pintak and Frances Deng (former foreign minister of Sudan). This year, we plan to bring Muhammad Yunus (Nobel Peace Prize winner) and Keith Ellison (first Muslim Congressman).

Event Food. The &quot;Event Food&quot; line item will only be used for dinner events open to the entire Stanford community. Funds will go toward inviting the Stanford community to an open dinner during the month of Ramadan. The event will showcase food from various parts of the Muslim world. This event aims at dispelling the stereotype of a monolithic Muslim culture. Furthermore, Ramadan is a major Muslim holiday, and a particularly festive time of the year for one-sixth of the world's population. Nevertheless, images of it as being a stoic and solemn period persist. This feast will allow us to share some of that festivity with the Stanford community in a way unique to our cultures. In the past, this has been a very well-attended event, with about 200 attendees. We also plan to use these funds for an open dinner to celebrate the Muslim Holiday of Eid, and for a Spring Quarter Muslim Cultural Celebration Extravaganza.

Travel Fares. The &quot;Travel Fares&quot; line item will be used to cover the expense of travel for the speakers we hope to bring to campus this coming year. With several speakers, many from the east coast, this creates a significant portion of our budget.

What is the average attendance at your events?

The average attendance at MSAN's events varies widely, due to different nature of its events. Its largest event so far this year (Ahmed comedy event) drew about 450 people. Our other large speaker events (Sufiism Demystified, Cultural Dinners ) typically draw between 125-150. We are also planning many big events for the Spring Quarter, including an event with Keith Ellison, the first Muslim to be elected into Congress and expect about 300 people to attend. We are planning to hold a concert event with an Arab DJ and Pakistani singer as well, which again should attract a crowd of around 300. Our film screenings draw between 40-60 and our Islam Awareness Month dinner/speaker series usually draws around 60.

What is your total membership?

There are 45 core members who are active in the organization and who attend meetings.

What events/programs does your group hold throughout the year for the Stanford Community?

Islam Awareness Month is MSAN's largest event held annually in Winter. IAM's goal is to increase student awareness of issues pertaining to Muslims, to remove negative stereotype, and to promote better cross-cultural understanding on Stanford's campus. The student body walks away from IAM with a richer understanding of Muslim culture and the role that Muslims play in American society and the world, an appreciation difficult to attain in a classroom setting. This year's IAM hopes to be as successful as in the past. This year, working closely with the Islamic Society of Stanford University, Vice Provost of Undergraduate Education (VPUE), Vice Provost of Student Affairs (VPSA), Religious Studies, CSRE, Abbasi, Office of Religious Life, Bechtel the Department of Religious Studies, Dean of Students Greg Boardman, to put on the program 'Islam and Modernity 2007'. Our program includes a four-week dinner series that features cuisine from around the Muslim world. The dinners are complemented by talks by renowned experts on issues that unify the diverse populations of Muslims. In addition to organizing IAM for 7 years, MSAN brings speakers that enrich student life and awareness of geopolitical issues pertaining to Muslims and Islamic culture. In the wake of the Russian campaign in Chechnya, MSAN brought Lyoma Usmanov, the representative of the Chechen Republic to the United States. 2000 featured speakers Salam Al-Maryati, Executive Director for the Muslim Public Affairs Council, and Congressman Tom Campbell. Later that month, during Africa Week, MSAN cosponsored a lecture by Ali Mazrui, a preeminent scholar of Islam in Africa. At the time when the situation in Darfur was getting the most attention, MSAN brought former Sudanese Ambassador to the UN.

In the fall of 2001, MSAN cosponsored a rally in White Plaza with Peninsula Peace and Justice Center, gathering people of social conscience to protest the decade-long sanctions on the Iraqi people. Two years later we cosponsored the student initiative to protest the war. In February 2001, MSAN and BSU hosted a discussion about the incarceration of former Black Panther Imam Jamil al-Amin (formerly H. Rap Brown) led by his representative, Abdul-Alim Musa, former head of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, and prominent civil rights activist in the '60's.

In Fall 2003, we sponsored a tribute to Edward Said, brought author Ghada Karmi in a talk entitled: 'Voices from Palestinian Exile'. This year, we brought Professor Asma Barlas (author of the book Unreading Patriarchal Interpretations of the Qu'ran) to speak about 'Women in Islam', Sudan's Ambassador to the U.S. to talk about 'Crisis in Darfur', Author Larry Everest on inauguration night to talk about 'Bush's Agenda for Iraq and Beyond', and the Jerusalem Women Speak Tour, featuring a Jewish, a Christian, and a Muslim woman from Jerusalem who spoke about their shared vision for peace in the region.

Last year featured Mustafa Barghouti, the runner up in the Palestinian presidential elections, and Azhar Usman, arguably the most famous Muslim comedian.

Please refer to our website for an exhaustive list of our events. (msan.stanford.edu)

What is the fundamental goal/purpose of your VSO (please limit your response to 50-100 words)?

MSAN is a non-religious, cultural student organization dedicated to:

1. Promoting awareness and fostering dialog about issues that pertain to Muslims domestically and globally
2. Increasing the Stanford community's understanding of the Islamic faith and culture

Our goals are to shed light on common misunderstandings about the religion and on crises in Muslim nations. We also aim to help Stanford students understand the foundations of the Islamic faith, celebrate Islamic culture and enhance cross-cultural understanding.

What percentage of your total membership is undergraduate? Graduate?

75% of the membership is undergraduate, 25% graduate.

When and why was your VSO established (please limit your response to 50-100 words)?

MSAN was created in 1997 because there was a major gap in understanding that was felt towards the Muslim world. Muslims live in every corner of the world - from Egypt, Tanzania, India and Indonesia to name a few nations. We want to promote awareness of Muslim societies across the spectrum, dispel myths about Islam, about the culture and thinking of the people. Muslims are becoming an increasingly vital population, not only in the US but globally as well, and therefore we felt it was important to educate students from every angle about this vast characterization of people.

Why are you requesting Special Fees?

The Muslim Student Awareness Network is, by definition, an awareness organization and thus serves only one community- the community of Stanford undergraduate students. Every cent MSAN receives goes directly back to Stanford students in the form of events that are open to the entire Stanford community. Because MSAN's focus is to promote awareness and understanding about Islam, all its programs are geared towards serving the largest possible audience, rather than a certain homogenous segment of the student population. The positive response MSAN has received every year since its founding has encouraged the organization to broaden its horizons and deepen its programming. Our membership core greatly expanded over the last few years and has continued to expand gradually this year, which has allowed us to increase our visibility on campus and plan even more events. And the generous turnout at our events, particularly our annual Islam Awareness Month, has demanded greater resourcefulness from the organization. In fact, our efforts and effect on this campus was recognized two years ago when we were presented with the VSO Organization of the Year Award. Because special fees is a stable funding source, the organization has been able to better plan and execute events over the course of the past three years. Through our financial base, we are able to attract better speakers and organize for more creative, impactful, educational, high quality events.
